

PRA Launches New Well-Being and Wellness Resources Webpage

At Policy Research Associates, we take well-being and wellness seriously. This commitment shows in our work, from our WellStaff@PRA activities to promote workplace wellness and a mentally healthy workplace, to our comprehensive work-life balance offerings for staff. Beyond our workplace, we understand that all populations we work to serve have unique needs; and improving well-being can enhance the overall quality of life and outcomes for these individuals, as well as for the organizations, systems, and communities serving them. To help meet these needs, we're expanding our well-being portfolio to make wellness-related tools, resources, and trainings accessible to the field.

We encourage you to visit our new Well-Being and Wellness Resources Page and access tools that may be of benefit to you, those you serve, or those you support. You'll find podcasts, animated videos, fact sheets, journal articles, workbooks, and more on this new page. The resources available will continue to grow as we expand our work, so please check back frequently and keep an eye on the PRA eNews to stay up to date on our well-being efforts.

Open Solicitations Roundup

GAINS: Criminal Justice Learning Collaboratives

Deadline: February 20, 2019

SAMHSA's GAINS Center is accepting applications for three Criminal Justice Learning Collaborative opportunities: Family Treatment Courts, Improving Risk-Need-Responsivity Policies and Practice in Adult Drug Courts and Reentry Programs, and Data-Driven Equity and Inclusion. Each Learning Collaborative will bring together six local teams for an intensive learning, strategic planning, and implementation process to address local issues and needs within a given topic area. Each Learning Collaborative will engage subject-matter experts and facilitate peer-to-peer learning and information sharing.

GAINS: Trauma-informed Responses Train-the-trainer Event for Individuals

Deadline: February 22, 2019

SAMHSA's GAINS Center for Behavioral Health and Justice Transformation is soliciting applications from experienced trainers (individuals) who are interested in developing their capacity to provide trauma-informed training in their local agencies/communities via the GAINS Center's How Being Trauma-informed Improves Criminal Justice System Responses training program. Selected applicants will learn via a centralized train-the-trainer (TTT) event to facilitate the training and subsequently deliver the training program in their local communities across the country.

For experienced trainers who successfully complete the application process, SAMHSA's GAINS Center is offering this event at no cost to the participant. While participants must cover their own travel expenses, there are no fees for registration, tuition, materials, or follow-up technical assistance and support associated with the event.

There are two TTT events scheduled for accepted trainers: May 22-23, 2019 and May 29-30, 2019. Both TTT events will be held in Albany, New York. Accepted participants are expected to attend the full training of either 2-day event.
