

Check out our Year in Review's Big News to see what it's like to work at and work with Policy Research:

- We were named the first-place small employer for the Times Union Top Workplace 2023 awards! It is our third time being named the first-place small employer. This award demonstrates the reciprocal commitment and care we have for our employees. In addition, we also received the "Doer" Award! The Doer Award is given to the company with the highest percentage of employees who agree with the statement, "At this company, we do things efficiently and well."
- We celebrated Policy Research's 35th anniversary by releasing a timeline documenting significant milestones over the past three and a half decades. The timeline highlights the start of our cornerstone projects, leadership transitions, select publications, and other notable facts to mark the evolution of our work.
- We modified the Sequential Intercept Model to include 988. This revision highlights the shift communities are making to provide behavioral health services for people in crisis when a law enforcement response is not necessary.
- We moved our headquarters from Delmar, New York, to a coworking space at the Hedley Building in Troy, New York. Our new coworking space aligns with our remote-first strategy and allows us to accommodate in-person groups, both large and small.
- We produced the Data Points podcast series and released four episodes that discuss frequent jail contact, suicide prevention, pretrial risk assessments, and money bail. Data Points translates research produced by Policy Research into key takeaways that you can use to enhance your work and advance positive social change. SAMHSA's GAINS Center Announces Criminal Justice Learning Collaboratives

SAMHSA'S GAINS CENTER'S

Criminal Justice Learning Collaboratives

Four Practice Areas Available!

Apply by January 12, 2024

Applications due: January 12, 2024

SAMHSA's GAINS Center is soliciting applications from jurisdictions interested in collaborating with subject-matter experts through Criminal Justice Learning Collaboratives designed to explore four topics:

- Creating and Enhancing Community-Level Partnerships Among First Responders and Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics
- Diversion and Support for Transition-Age Youth
- Implementing Risk-Need-Responsivity Principles in Adult Drug Courts and Reentry Programs
- Trauma-Informed Treatment Courts

The Learning Collaborative model brings together local jurisdiction teams to create coordinated local strategic plans and implementation strategies for the topic of focus. Selected teams for each topic will work intensively to determine optimal ways to implement best practices and define success indicators.
